UPH Welcomes 4.507 New Students

Rektor UPH, Dr. (Hon) Jonathan L. Parapak, M.Eng.Sc., Draping Student Identity Card as a Symbol of the New Student Inauguration

Rector of UPH, Dr. (Hon) Jonathan L. Parapak, M.Eng.Sc., officially inaugurated 4.507 new students of 2017/2018 academic year - UPH Kawaraci main campus, on Wednesday, August 16, 2017.

The 'Bear Fruit' or be fruitful theme taken from the John 15: 5 become the theme of the Academic Year of UPH 2017/2018, with the hope that the whole family of UPH can bear much fruit in life.

No exception, the Rector invites all the UPH new students to participate producing fruits with earnestly and diligently while using time and opportunity to learn in UPH.

"We must have the true knowledge from the true source; God, faith in Christ, to produce a noble character. When those all planted, we hope that you will produce the right fruit," Rector's message to all new students.

On the same occasion, Founder of FMU. (HC) James T. Riady hopes that the new students will be able to understand the message of 'Bear Fruit'.

"In our spiritual growth, we must understand the meaning of fruit. Have we been fruitful? Like a plant that God created from the beginning to be fruitful.

The plant has seeds that become beans to continue the process until it grows and produces fruit.

This is the principle that we must understand. We bear fruit and continue this fruitful process to others. You are the leader of the future, "James encouraging thousands of new students at the UPH Grand Chapel.

He hopes for the next 3-4 years, it become the perfect time for UPH students to prepare themselves before participating in the real world so that later can bring the solution to the problems which the world are facing.

The spiritual message was also presented to the new students by Rev. Yung Tik Yuk in the Morning Devotion session. He reminds that in order to bear fruit we must be able to know what God's will. Being fruitful means having a true knowledge of God.

After the inauguration, the new students follow the orientation program which is arranged in the event of UPH Festival 24, starting from the introduction of curriculum, mentoring program, introduction of student activities, welcome by faculty family, motivation and inspiration from the alumni and leader of the expert staff of the Indonesian Police, sport Founder's 5K Merdeka Run, until the preparation of human configuration performances will be dedicated to cover UPH Festival 24 events.

Through each program of UPH Festival 24, students are not only prepared to enter the world of campus, but are also given motivation and inspiration to produce fruit, through the highest achievements and works that affect the community, for God's glory.

- EDITORIAL -

Welcome, UPH new family! With great enthusiasm and joy, the whole UPH welcomes future leaders to be built together in UPH. As with the 'Bear Fruit' theme in the Academic Year recently in UPH, we are all reminded to bear fruits. Indeed the good seed will produce a good fruit. New students are like seeds, which need to be planted and taken care of by the sunlight, water, and balanced nutrition, so that it can produce fruit. Fruit can be enjoyed and useful. Fruit can also be a new seed that can be developed to produce more fruit. This process is expected to take place in UPH, involving all elements of UPH big family, leaders, lecturers, staffs, students, alumni, and all parents of students. Let us work diligently on our part by praying continuously to God to grow in various aspects of life, and continue to bear more fruits.

RECTORATE REFLECTION

Growing and Bear Fruit
 by: Dr. Curtis Jay Taylor, Ph.D.
 Vice President for Student Development

By the grace of God, we have entered the Academic Year (TA) 2017/2018 and set the theme 'Bear Fruit' for this new TA.

In Biblical terms the meaning of bearing fruit is similar.

Jesus tells us in John 15 that He is the vine and we are the branches.

When we abide in Him and allow Him to nurture us and cultivate our lives, we will bear healthy fruit as an outward expression of Him living in us.

Students have many opportunities at UPH to be nurtured in various aspects of their lives, as a result of which we pray that they will grow closer to Christ and bear fruit.

At UPH we do not adhere to an artificial separation of our activities into "sacred" and "secular," so we believe that whether we are interacting with students in the lecture hall, the laboratory, a service-learning project, the chapel, an athletic field, or the concert hall, our lecturers and staff are cultivating the spiritual lives of students.

And, as with planting a seed, we trust that the result of our efforts will be students who are changed by the power of the Holy Spirit and who display the evidence of Christ living in them through life-long learning, healthy relationships, dedicated work and service, and passionate civic engagement.

It is our earnest prayer that students will take advantage of the opportunities for growth at UPH, observe the examples set by their lecturers and other staff, and increasingly demonstrate the fruit that God produces in their lives so that others will be served and encouraged through them and God will receive all the glory.

“Students Need to Deepen the Knowledge about ASEAN”

Odo Manuhutu
Director of SESPARLU, Kemenlu RI

“ Knowledge and insight about ASEAN are necessary and important for students, especially the International Relation UPH program. Because without ASEAN, a region will not prosper as it is now.

ASEAN has a greater influence on Asia Pacific trade, politics, and security issues collectively than individually. When a country joins a large organization such as ASEAN, it becomes a member of the community where the other members are obliged to help one another.

Indeed as a young generation and future leaders of the nation, students need to be equipped with ASEAN knowledge and education especially on what the Indonesian Ministry of Foreign Affairs has done to improve the standard of understanding on issues of ASEAN’s concern.”

Biblical Worldview & Liberal Arts as a Holistic Education Foundation

FLA Executive Dean, Matthew R. Malcolm, Ph.D. (right) Gives the Explanation Of Biblical Worldview and Liberal Art at UPH Festival 24

The introduction of Biblical Worldview and Liberal Arts at UPH Festival 24 was presented as the foundation of holistic education. Matthew R. Malcolm, Ph.D. - The Executive Dean of the Faculty of Liberal Arts explains to the new students what the Faculty of Liberal Arts (FLA) is and what the faculty will provide.

“Faculty of Liberal Arts helps you to have wisdom in looking at things. This capability will be achieved through three main areas in the FLA: Religious and Worldview Studies, Philosophical Sciences, and Life Skills and Languages”, said Dr. Malcom

Unlike other campuses, the FLA course in UPH is not an option but a compulsory course. Students are required to take 28 credits from the courses in the FLA. Uniquely, the FLA curriculum is made according to the students’ department and religion. For example science, students will get the social sciences. Social students will gain knowledge of science in general. Non-Christian students will gain knowledge of the Christian worldview. While students who are Christian and Catholic must take theological courses. Thus the knowledge gained will be useful and complete the field of scholarship of each student.

With the provision of Liberal Arts then, when graduated they are ‘armed’ with soft skills and global insight work world needed, such as the ability to think logically and critically, problem-solving, communicate effectively, negotiate, ask properly, and others. With cross-disciplinary thinking skills and Christian worldview gained, they can see the world from different points of view correctly.

INSPIRATION

Democracy in the Spirit of Diversity

*Irjen Pol. Dr. Drs. Gatot Eddy Pramono, M.Si.
DGS UPH Festival 24*

“If Indonesia wants to be a big country or a superpower country, then Indonesia should run a democracy based on unity and diversity. This involves the involvement of all levels of society, including students as young people. Maintain UPH campus as a diversity bhineka campus to guard the unity of the Republic of Indonesia. This spirit of unity and diversity that is able to maintain Indonesian democracy.

Of course, the intention of becoming a great nation will not be separated from various challenges.

For that, an active role from various parties including the younger generation becomes important.

As a student you can have a part in overcoming the challenges through several ways: do not become perpetrators of crime, guarding and maintaining KAMTIBMAS, obeying traffic, accepting diversity and variousness, sizing in building unity and entity of the nation, developing oneself to have competitiveness, having intellectual stability, spirituality, and obedience to God, and last, able to utilize the knowledge and intelligence possessed by producing real work.”

Cyntia Virginia Faculty of Social and Political Science

New Student of UPH

The UPH orientation program is very useful. On the first day, I got an explanation of the Faculty of Liberal Arts (FLA).

Apparently, FLA is very important because the knowledge provided will complement our life skills. In the campus life introduction session, video of social activities of UPH students was played. I think UPH is very concerned with its students, in character building through well-organized social activities. I was also rebuked by the devotion at the sermon because according to the theme, I was reminded to bear fruit, to bear witness, to pray and act"

Ellen Nio SISTech Alumni, 2007

Country Manager for Investing in Woman

I am delighted to be present at UPH Festival event to share experiences and inspire new students. But I also feel a little burdened because I am chosen to be a graduate profile indeed I have to be an impact. I hope the new students at UPH deploy a good name to be an enterprising graduate. Currently, many UPH graduates work in multinational companies and become great leaders who can be an inspiration for the new students.

UPH has many activities which can facilitate students to work and learn leadership. So use the opportunity and seize it".

Biola University Pre-med Students Intern in UPH Faculty of Medicine

Welcome Lunch for All Biola University Students

UPH once again hosts Biola University students' internship in Siloam Hospital and MRIN on 13 – 31 July 2017. This internship is in partnership between UPH and Biola University.

In this internship, Biola University sends 11 members from the Department of Biological Science, consisting of 3 team leaders, namely Dr. Harvey Havoonjian, Dr. Hyuna Lee and Mr. James Zapata, and 8 students who are divided into Clinical and Research Teams.

Mr. James Zapata, the program coordinator of the internship, mentions how this internship is a really great program for Biola University students.

“The interesting point is how both research and clinical teams can get hands-on experience in a number of different activities. For the clinical team, they get to be part of various activities in the hospital and to take part in its humanistic level. As for the research team, the internship is really important as they get to be part of a real research and what is currently happening. This is really amazing and such a blessing,” explained James.

UPH Welcome ITC Students from 11 Countries

International Teachers College UPH Cohort 2017-2018

UPH as a global education university welcomes International Students of cohort 2017-2018, and one of the faculties with international students is International Teachers College. The 44 students of International Teachers College (ITC) had joined the new student orientation in the UPH Festival 24 on 16-19 August 2017. At first in ITC, they were equipped with the International Teachers College Orientation Program for 4 days. The orientation gave an introduction about ITC in greater details, and information about cultural insight in Indonesia. There was also a sharing about expectation from both ITC staffs and students.

The students are from Indonesia, China, Nepal, South Korea, Afrika, Kenya, Uganda, Philippine, Brazil, Malaysia, and India. This year, the most number of students come from Nepal, 11 people.

One of the ITC new students, Hannah Thuo from Kenya stated that she feels happy and comfortable with the new environment. Moreover after attending UPH Festival 24 on the last day, “It was fun, especially on the last day, I feel like I am a part of something that is going on”
