Discover Your Path to Medicine at UPH

Step into the future of healthcare at UPH's Faculty of Medicine, a trailblazer in medical education with a cutting-edge Problem-Based Learning curriculum that blends medical and clinical sciences through dynamic, block based teaching. As part of our esteemed Medical Sciences Cluster, you'll collaborate with peers in Nursing, Pharmacy, Medical Laboratory Technology, and Psychology while partnering with Siloam Hospital Groups and the Mochtar Riady Institute of Nanotechnology to drive innovation in Evidence Based Clinical Practices, Medical Education, and Research.

With standout features like being Indonesia's first private medical school to offer a Specialization Program, ranking #1 among private medical schools (EduRank 2023), and offering unique dual and triple degree pathways, UPH equips you for a lifelong self directed learning journey. Dive into hands-on patient care early, leverage our Simulation Center and Clerkship Mobile Application, and join a community where 80+ bachelor students have presented research at international congresses, 47% of faculty hold doctoral degrees, and 16 patents have been secured in the past five years. At UPH, you'll shape a bold, impactful career in medicine!

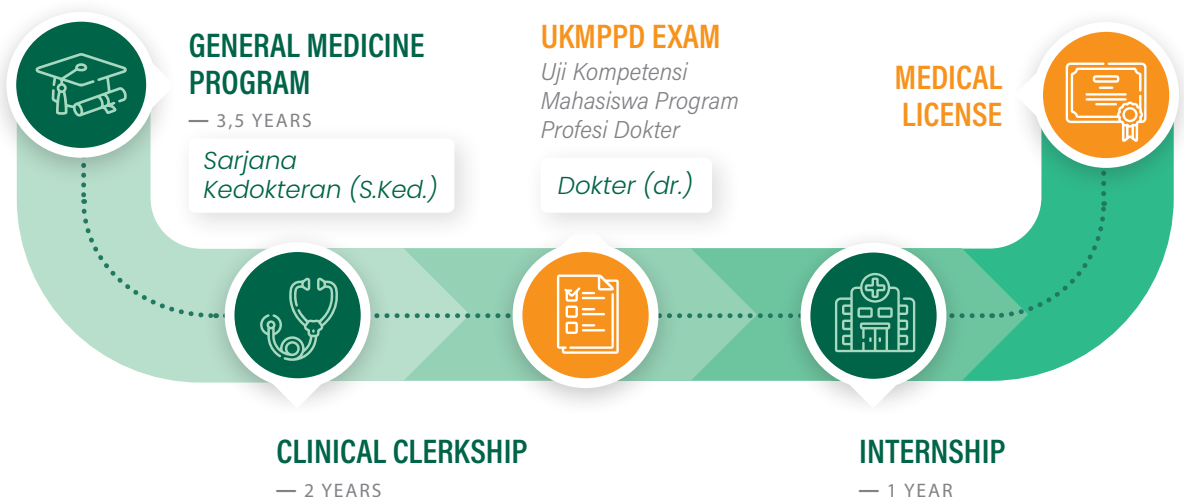

Explore Global Healthcare with UPH

Jump into an exciting medical journey at UPH's Faculty of Medicine, where you'll earn your Bachelor of Medicine (S.Ked) in just 3.5 years through seven semesters of dynamic learning, followed by a two-year Medical Doctor (dr.) Profession Program with hands-on clinical clerkships at top-tier hospitals like Siloam Hospitals Group. With a curriculum aligned to national standards (SKDI), you'll gain real-world experience through placements at a dedicated 300-bed hospital at Lippo Village and even explore international or rural Indonesian postings for a broader perspective.

Take your passion further with UPH's Medical Student Summer Enrichment Program (MSSEP), a voluntary 4 to 6-week summer adventure that lets you serve communities in Indonesia and abroad while sharpening your skills. This program builds compassion, integrity, and leadership, preparing you to become a physician, scholar, health advocate, and collaborator, ready to tackle healthcare challenges and make a real difference in the world.
