At UPH Faculty of Music, we offer professional music education for students in Indonesia and overseas. With a holistic approach that will introduce you to the interdisciplinary nature of the music industry, our Faculty is the perfect place for your musical development.

AUDIO AND MUSIC TECHNOLOGY

Ready to dive into the exhilarating world of sound design and music production? The Audio & Music Technology program at UPH is your launchpad. Experience hands-on learning with industry-standard equipment, mastering everything from live & studio recording to multimedia sound. With expert mentors guiding you, you'll develop essential skills while collaborating with renowned artists and gaining internships with leading companies. Whether your dream is in a studio, on stage, or behind the scenes in tech, it all starts here at UPH.

JAZZ & POP MUSIC PERFORMANCE

Jump into the thrilling world of performance with the Jazz & Pop Music Performance program at UPH! Your musical journey starts here, with personalized mentorship from day one to sharpen your skills as a vocalist or instrumentalist. Dive into exciting jazz ensembles, unleash your creativity through improvisation, and learn music production—all while gaining real performance experience. Connect with guest artists from the vibrant jazz and pop scenes to stay inspired and in tune with the latest trends. Collaborate on dynamic projects that will elevate your musicianship and prepare you to shine as a standout performer in today's music industry. Your moment to captivate the world is here!

MUSIC INDUSTRY MANAGEMENT

If you've ever dreamed of being more than just a musician—like an artist manager, hit record producer, or label founder—UPH's Music Industry Management program is your perfect platform! Immerse yourself in the exciting world of performing arts production, artist management, and innovative marketing strategies. You'll develop both your musical talent and entrepreneurial skills while collaborating with record labels, concert promoters, and more. From day one, you'll tackle creative projects that blend art and business, preparing you not just to enter the industry but to lead it with confidence!

CREATIVE MUSIC COMPOSITION

If you love creating original music and dream of hearing your compositions come to life in film, games, or live performances, the Creative Music Composition program at UPH is made for you. Here, you won't just learn about orchestration or electronic music—you'll get personalized, one-on-one mentorship from real composers who are shaping the future of "New Music." You'll have the freedom to explore your unique style while working on exciting ensemble projects, workshops, and collaborations with performers from other disciplines. It's a creative playground where your ideas turn into soundtracks, symphonies, or even award-winning scores.
